

AI in Healthcare Call 2025

Are you developing an AI-driven product or service for healthcare?

Do you want the opportunity to pilot or get vital feedback in an Irish healthcare setting?

Then the HIHI.AI Call 2025 is for you!

About the HIHI.AI Call 2025

The HIHI.AI Call 2025 is a competition to select the best AI-powered products or services aimed at improving healthcare. Whether market-ready or in development, innovative AI solutions that have the potential to enhance patient care and operational efficiency are invited to apply.

Since 2016, HIHI has supported over 500 companies by providing unique access to healthcare settings and end-users, including hospital staff, community care, and primary care services across Ireland.

Who Can Apply?

We invite applications from Irish-based companies and international companies with an Irish presence, pre-startups, and researchers that have an AI-powered product or service meeting the following criteria:

- Solves a recognised healthcare challenge.
and
- Is market ready for real-world implementation in an Irish healthcare setting and has the required regulatory approvals (or is in the final stages of approval) for healthcare deployment.
or
- Is in development with a prototype available for consideration.

What Does HIHI Offer?

HIHI offers two types of projects:

- Pilots – Conducted in a real-world healthcare setting in Ireland for solutions that have all necessary regulatory approvals (e.g., CE mark).
- Clinical Evaluations – Provides valuable feedback from clinicians or other healthcare end-users on a market-ready or developing AI solution.
